

WE NOMINATE

Francis Sheldon Hackney, a leading chronicler of the history of the American South and of this nation since the War Between the States, who is doing a superb job as director of the Princeton Cooperative School Program, a pioneering venture designed to increase the number of disadvantaged students admitted to college. From the high schools of Newark, Trenton, Hightstown and Burlington, 42 soon-to-be high school juniors, 90 per cent of whom are black, have assembled on the Princeton University Campus to participate in an undertaking concerned with developing unrealized academic potential among secondary school students.

While here for six weeks, and headquartered in Lourie-Love Hall, these mid-teens are participating in a mathematics course and in a history seminar each morning, Monday through Friday, and in a series of lectures and discussions concerning African culture that meets Friday afternoons. Two hours in the afternoon, Monday through Thursday, are devoted to a creative arts workshop, in which the student works in a medium of his own choosing. "We feel that the creative arts offer a powerful way for a student to develop a new conception of himself, to build his self-confidence and to enrich his experience," the 34-year old Hackney observes.

Now in its fifth summer, and under the financial sponsorship of The Rockefeller Foundation, the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity and Princeton University, the Hackney-directed program has been hailed as "Unorthodox, Informal . . . and Successful." This past weekend, for instance, the New Jersey press focussed attention on the PCSP's use of a 19th century slave auction as an unconventional teaching technique devised by a school departmental chairman to give students of all races an awareness of some of the strongest emotional experiences that shaped racial attitudes.

President of the Mercer County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, Hackney, who divided five years of duty as a U.S. naval officer between destroyers and teaching weapons at the U.S. Naval Academy, has been deeply concerned with reform and protest movements in the 20th Century. An authority on the politics of the Populist and Progressive eras (1890-1916) and author of "Populism and Progressivism in Alabama, 1890-1910," he also qualifies as an astute student-watcher — a trained historian, a product of Vanderbilt and Yale Universities, as interested in observing college activism as he is in opening new windows for promising 10th graders.

Some months ago, in speaking before a staid audience on "Today's Undergraduates," Hackney noted: "The problem has always been, and is today, that we take our heretics much too seriously as revolutionaries without ever listening closely to what they are saying, and we have much to learn from them. I recommend an attitude not simply of tolerance, but of unprejudiced interest . . . As almost all close observers agree, the student activists are among the brightest and most creative among the student body. Their becoming activists stems from the fact that they are among the first to realize that today's skills and values may not be suitable tomorrow."

For "understanding that education is not a contest between teacher and student, but is essentially "a joint voyage of discovery"; for insisting that "getting the student involved in his own education should be the great aim of teachers"; for suggesting that "teeny hoppers may dress and talk like flower children" but that "they still do their homework at night"; he is our nominee as

This Is Princeton

DO YOU KNOW THE TOWN?
 Try This Quiz and see how much you know about Princeton and its past? If Princetonian or a charter member of the Historical Society, many of the interesting historical facts about the town are probably at your fingertips.

The answers do not come as easily, however, to the majority of the town's constantly growing and changing population. As a University town, Princeton welcomes numerous newcomers every fall. It also serves as a temporary home for many businessmen, whose firms shift them from one part of the country to another every three to five years.

The family just arrived after spending six years in Terre Haute usually knows that Nassau Hall was built before the revolutionary war and that the British took a beating in the Battle of Princeton. But this barely scratches the surface of Princeton's history. For those interested in an abbreviated course in local lore, TOWN TOPICS offers the following in quiz form. It is designed to give the newcomer a few pertinent facts on both ancient and recent history in the town.

Because of the importance of the town in colonial times, and the presence of the University, Princeton has always had its share of visits from presidents, heads of state, dignitaries, and other celebrities of lesser and more questionable stature. The list runs the

"THIS BEAUTIFUL AND MAGNIFICENT PUBLIC HOUSE": John F. Hageman described this building in his two-volume work: "History of Princeton and its Institutions."
 Four stories high with about 100 rooms, the hotel stood at the corner of Railroad Avenue and Nassau Street for three pages. Can you name it? See answer in story beginning this page.

gamut from George Washington to Cassius Clay.
 How many at this diverse selection of luminaries have made the scene here? John Adams, Madame Ben, Charles
 de Gaulle, Henry Clay, Alger Hiss, John Tyler, George Wallace, Paul Revere.

The answer is all of them —
 except for President de Gaulle.
 Even Paul Revere made it his far south, not on the night of his famous ride, but in 1773 carrying the news of the Boston Tea Party to Philadelphia.
 Because of its reliability in spreading the word, Paul used to carry dispatches from Boston to the Congress in Philadelphia, a dispatch from the town on other occasions as well.

2. Princeton Cemetery has been eloquently — referred to as "The Westminster Abbey of America." Within its older sections lie the graves of a justice of the Supreme Court, members of the Continental Congress, several officers of the Revolutionary War, a governor of New Jersey, U.S. senators and representatives and a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

A president and vice-president of the United States are also buried there. What are their names?

Answer: Grover Cleveland
 and Aaron Burr. Although Woodrow Wilson lived in Princeton for many years, he is buried in Washington D.C.
 Because of the charges of treason against him and the duel with Alexander Hamilton,

rumors abounded for many years that Burr's burial was secret and that the monument in the cemetery was erected stealthily at night.

3. What Greenwich Village, Harlem and Wall Street are to
 New York City, Juxtavan,
 Princeton Basin, Cedar Grove and "White City" once were to this town. What are the locations of these oldtime sections of Princeton and the surrounding area?

Answer: Juxtavan, located in the Harrison Street-Markham Road area, derived its name from a modest but prosperous pottery operated there until the latter part of the last century.

Princeton Basin lies at the bottom of Alexander Street by the canal. It was a thriving section during the days of the Camden and Amboy railroad, which ran along the canal's south bank. An iron preserving company, a wool carding concern, a laundry and dealing business, lumber and coal yard and a sash and blind factory were all located there.

Cedar Grove, on the old section of the Great Road near Tenacre, was the site of a Huguenot settlement dating back to about 1795. A schoolhouse and a chapel were built there in 1845, the former remodeled into a private home and the latter removed.

The FitzRandolph Road
 Broadmead Western Way area came to be known as "White City" around the turn of the century, after the construction of several faculty houses by the University. Built of white stucco, they gleamed brightly
 in the sun for many years before ivy vines and the weather darkened their walls, and the area was dubbed
 "White City."

4. More than 20 churches of all denominations are located in Princeton, some dating back more than two centuries. What is the chronological order of the erection of the original buildings of these churches, beginning with the oldest? Methodist Church, Quaker Meeting House, Trinity Church, First Presbyterian Church.

Answer: Quaker Meeting House, 1709; First Presbyterian Church, 1762; Trinity Church, 1833; and Methodist Church, 1847. None of the original buildings remain today,
 although the current Quaker Meeting House was built in 1760.

Used as the residence of the state's governor, Morven has become a well-known landmark in Princeton. However, several other fine homes have histories dating back at least a century or more. What is the street address of the following? Gurnsey Hall, Tusculum, Drumhackett, Westland and Thant Lodge? Which is the oldest?

Answer: Gurnsey Hall is located at 63 Lovers Lane, Tusculum, 166 Cherry Hill Road.

when it served as the home of John Witherspoon, a President of Princeton University and signer of the Declaration of In-

6. Most of Princeton's oldest streets have kept their original names, but four have been changed. What is the current name for each of the following? Railroad Avenue, South
Main Street, Canal Street, Morningside.

Answer: Railroad Avenue, so called because the tracks from Princeton Junction once came in beside it (as far as Blair Arch at campus), is now
University Place. Steadman
Street, named after Charles Steadman who owned the land surrounding it, is Library Place. Canal Street led directly from Mercer to the canal and is now Alexander Street.
Morningside was renamed Battle Road.

7. If those old-time names sound unfamiliar, try some of those in existence today. New streets are added steadily to the Township map, while the Borough may have one or two unknown to many. How many of the following are Borough and Township Streets? Quarry Drive, White Pine Lane, Branch Avenue, Fir Drive,
Hardin Road, Puritan Court,
Cordova Road, Tiger Lane,
Hunter Road.

Answer: Seven. There is one Fair Drive or Tiger Lane in the Borough or Township.
Quarry Drive is off Mountain Avenue. White Pine Lane is off Roper Road near Raritan Road. Branch Avenue, Fir
Lane, is off Springfield near the Institute for Advanced Study.
Puritan Court is part of the Brookstone section off Rosedale Road. Cordova Road is off Autumn Hill Road, which intersects with Herrontown Road, and Hunter Road is between Westcott and Lafayette Roads.

nine years away. How old is the monument (located next to Borough Hall) which commemorates it, and what famous monument in Europe inspired the sculptor's design?
Those who know both answers can try reciting the verse inscribed on the back.

Answer: It took 72 years for the town to build a monument and it was finally unveiled in 1922 by President Harding. Its sculpture was inspired by that of the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. The verse reads as follows: "Here Memory Lingers/
To Recall/The Guiding Mind/
Whose Daring Plan/Outflanked
The Fear/And Turned Dismay
To Hope/When Washington/
With Swift Resolve/Marched
Through The Night/To Fight
At Dawn/And Venture All/In One Victorious Battle/For Our Freedom."

9. Two questions dealing with more recent matters complete the quiz. Borough and Township residents voted to merge their school systems two years ago, bringing joint operation of the two communities a little closer. However, the question of consolidation has not fared as well with the voters, going down to defeat in its only time on the ballot in 1953. What was the margin of defeat? Less than 200 votes, 2-1, 3-2, 5-3, or 7-1.
Which municipality was more opposed?

Answer: The margin was
3-2, with the total vote running 3,461 against and 2,314 for. The Township, which was more

in favor of merging the school systems, was more opposed to consolidation in 1953.

10. At tax collection time, the biggest customer in both Borough and Township is Princeton University. What percent of the annual taxes collected by the municipalities is paid by the University? 5, 10, 14, 18, or 25. Because it has so many academic buildings and dormitories exempt from taxation, the University also makes an annual contribution to Borough coffers.
What is the amount of this gift? $500, $1,000, $5,000, $15,000.

Answer: 14%, 9.34 to the Borough and 5.38 to the Township. The sum of the annual contribution is $15,000.

Answer to picture. The University Hotel, torn down in 1916, to make way for the University dining halls. One of the reasons why Mr. Hageman was so particularly enamored with the hotel was its lack of a bar.

As he wrote in his book:
"Guests of the house may obtain wines and liquors at their meals if they wish them . . .
but there is no tipping, no loafing and waiting to be treated with intoxicating drinks, no line of degraded, drunkards lounging
in or about the house."
The atmosphere is free from the flavor of a bar-room. The halls and parlors are exempt from the interpenetration and baser sort of men. Married women and maidens of the greatest delicacy and reserve may have the range of the house its halls and piazzas, without encountering anything offensive or anybody disorderly . . ."

This lack of a bar may well have led to the hotel's downfall, since it was only around for 10 years and was converted into a college dormitory
common for part of this time.

CAGE STILL IN TROUBLE
Ironworkers on Strike. Dedication of Princeton's $8 million, 7,500-seat Jadwin Gymnasium, hopefully set for December 7, is virtually certain to be indefinitely delayed. An ironworkers' strike, now in its fourth week, has made further work on much of the roofing impossible. R. Kenneth Fairman, the school's director of Athletics, said this week, "Right now," he commented, "I wouldn't want to predict when we will be able to play the first game in Jadwin. The ironworkers are responsible for the welding on the unfinished portion of the roof, for the installation of window frames and other important aspects of the building's exterior."

"There is no way of knowing how much longer the strike will last," Fairman said. "Until the middle of June, we had thought that the last of our big problems had been solved, and that we could definitely count on dedication of Jadwin with Duke on December 7. Now, we aren't making any plans for a specific date of any kind."

The striking union is Local 68 of the Iron Workers and Riggers, AFL-CIO. Mediation sessions are being held in Trenton with the Master Builders Exchange of that city.

Issues include both a difference of opinion over escalating pay clauses in a three-year contract and the manner in which one of the contractors, American Bridge Co., is transporting its workers to a job at the Fairless Steel Works of U.S. Steel. The union charges that its men "are being moved like cattle in vans" and that they are entitled to make the trip in buses.

There are no picket lines at the site of the huge domed structure, and members of other unions are continuing to work on their assigned jobs each day. Under the finished portion of the roof—about 50% of the gym has been covered—when the strike began—progress on the interior has been possible. Half it roof may be better than none, but it falls far short of assurance that Jadwin Gymnasium will be ready for play when the Princeton basketball team is Star-Crossed Project. Despite the fact that ground was actually broken for Jadwin some what ahead of schedule in 1964, it has been plagued almost continuously by a series of frustrating construction delays. A steel shortage was a contributing factor, as were difficulties in design and completion of the dome.

Originally, it had been hoped that, mid-February athletic events—including a Harvard-Yale-Princeton track meet—could be staged in Jadwin in the winter of 1967. As the construction schedule slowed, those were switched to other sites, but it was still thought that the 1967-68 basketball season could open there.

Twelve months before that was set to take place, it became fully apparent that Dillon Gym would be in use for winter sports throughout an other season. Last March 2, the night that Princeton threw the Ivy race into a deadlock by defeating Columbia, 68 to 57, was generally believed that the contest was the last intercollegiate game to be played in Dillon Gym.

Progress on Jadwin continued apace during the spring

TROUBLE IN PARADISE: Princeton University's long-awaited Jadwin Gymnasium, for which a December 7 dedication had been announced, is not expected to be ready for the occasion. An ironworkers' strike is the latest in a series of construction delays encountered by the $8 million structure, shown here in the architect's sketch prepared for it when ground was broken near Palmer Stadium in 1964.

and early summer, and those in the ECAC Holiday Festival, whose eight-team slate is headed by UCLA and North Carolina.

The task of regaining the Ivy crown is complicated by the rotation in scheduling established a few seasons ago. In 1969, it calls for the Tigers to finish the campaign by playing their toughest weekend swing away from home—against Columbia on Friday, February 28, and then on to Cornell the following night.

Tough Row to Hoe. Wherever it will begin and end its home season, the Tiger quintet will face as tough a schedule as any ever prepared for a Princeton basketball team. Its target is to regain the Ivy title, which it lost in a playoff to Columbia, as well as a high spot in the national rankings, but the opposition is rugged from the opener on the road at Villanova to the last game on the road against Cornell.

Among the top independent teams, in addition to Duke and Harvard, are generally believed to be Army, Navy, NYU, Maryland and Davidson. As a "respite" from this sort of opposition, the Tigers will spend the week between Christmas and New Year's at Madison Square Garden partaking in the ECAC Holiday Festival, whose eight-team slate is headed by UCLA and North Carolina.

The task of regaining the Ivy crown is complicated by the rotation in scheduling established a few seasons ago. In 1969, it calls for the Tigers to finish the campaign by playing their toughest weekend swing away from home—against Columbia on Friday, February 28, and then on to Cornell the following night.

Chris Thomforde will lead a quintet that must replace Joe Heiser, John Harlow and Dave Lawver but will build around its 6-9 center, plus John Hummer, George Petrie and several good reserves and sophomores. The Tigers were 20-6 last winter.

TWO HOMES RANSACKED
In the Township, Two homes in Princeton Township have been entered and ransacked by thieves.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Hart, 19 Winfield Drive, was discovered ransacked Monday afternoon by the couple's son, Peter, who lives in Lawrence Township. According to Lt. Fred Porter, who is investigating the theft, entry was made by forcing the catch of a rear den window.

"As far as we can determine," he said, "silverware, whiskey, jewelry and a portable television set were taken." He added that the entire house was completely ransacked.

Between 8:25 and 9:06 p.m. Friday evening, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hymersling, 297 Jefferson Road, was entered by someone whom police believe was frightened off upon the arrival of the Hymerslings.

After gaining entry by breaking a rear bedroom screen, the intruder completely ransacked the master bedroom. Police said he carried off an under-terminated amount of cash and articles of jewelry valued at approximately $1,000.

Mt. Howard Sweeney investigated.

MCCARTER IS TARGET
Of $3600 Costume Theft. An estimated 24 costumes with a value of approximately $150 each were stolen last week from a seventh floor room of McCarter Theatre.

Police described the costumes as replicas of women's gowns and men's capes of the 15th and 17th centuries. A plastic window, part of a large ground level casement window located at the rear of the building, had been broken to gain entry, police said.

The theft was discovered early last week by John Schenck, a technical director at McCarter. Ptl. Gerald Patterson's initial investigation was followed up by Detective John J. Bellone.

Try It Again, Man!

On Friday It rained

At the quieting hour,

And the Weatherman said:
"A meteorographer's shower!"

Virtually the only rain in almost a month fell last Friday, and the total for July remains far below normal.

The current heat and humidity make showers a daily possibility but they rarely materialize. The Van has them on the list for Thursday (maybe) and Sunday (but not really a sure thing). Continuing high temperatures, however, are

Princeton Hospital to close laceration that Harold T. Thomas, 26, received on his right foot Saturday when his motorcycle hit a curb and he was thrown to the ground. Mr. Thomas, who lives at 24 Witherspoon Lane, was also treated for a large abrasion of his left shoulder.

Mr. Thomas told police he was riding on University Place when a car pulled from a parking place and started to stray into his lane. In steering to the extreme right, he said, to avoid a collision, his bike's footbrake caught the curb, causing him to lose control.

After Mr. Thomas was thrown to the ground, his motorcycle continued on another 44 feet. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Ptl. Thomas Procaccino ticketed Mr. Thomas for operating a motorcycle while driving on a permit.

Issued Four Summonses. James J. Carson, 47, 54 Leigh Avenue, received four summonses from Ptl. William Hunter Thursday evening after he was involved in a hit-run accident on Witherspoon Street.

Released in $250 bail, Mr. Carson pleaded guilty Monday in Borough court to driving while under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident, using fictitious

Somehow things always look a little better through the windshield of a new car.

And they look even better when you know you're really driving a bargain because you shopped around carefully. One way to make sure you get the best deal is to arrange an auto loan at the First National Bank before you buy. That way you're in a great bargaining position wherever you go — and you know you're saving money already by getting a direct loan at low bank rates. Just tell us how much cash you'll need, and we'll make all the arrangements in advance with a custom-tailored plan to fit your budget. Stop in today at any of the three convenient offices of Princeton's First National, where banking has been a friendly thing for 75 years.

Gale F. Cheek, 18, of Route 518, Skillman, told police that the Carson car had sideswiped her's and continued on. A witness in another car, Wayne Leslie of Somerville, followed the Carson car which soon stalled in front of 160 Witherspoon Street.

Mr. Leslie then said that three men had tried to push the car off Witherspoon onto Shirley Court. He called the police.

Mr. Carson was later given a Breathalyzer test at police headquarters by Sgt. Ralph Proaccione. There were no injuries in the 9:29 p.m. accident.

In the Township, six persons received assorted scrapes and bruises following the collision
Friday afternoon of a bus and pickup truck at the intersection of Harrison Street and Hartley Avenue.

Injured were Carl P. Hansen, 60, of Trenton, driver of a Capital Bus, and four of his passengers, as well as the truck driver, Hayes H. Evans, 40, of Trenton. Both the bus and the truck, which had its entire right side damaged, had to be towed away.

According to Sgt. Lester Anderson, who investigated, the truck skidded sideways into the path of the oncoming bus.
It was raining hard at the time of the accident, he said. The Towship is still under investigation.

SUIT FOLLOWS SALE

Couple Asks For Furniture
Back. Furniture allegedly sold without their knowledge is the basis for a suit brought by Mr.
and Mrs. George Greene of 121
Mount Locust Road against a Trenton moving and storage firm.

The Greenses contend that in July, 1961, while they were residents of New Hope, Pa. they placed all their furniture and numerous personal belongings
in the hands of Donald S.
Hushch Co. and American Red Ball Transit Co. They assert that it was to be held for them for a period of four or five years.

Subsequently, they moved to New York and then lived in Italy until September 1965.
The following June, the charges is made, they took up residence in Rocky Hill and asked the firm for their furniture.

According to the complaint,
they were informed that it had been sold in November, 1961, to cover storage charges of $24.70. The suit asks for an accounting of the sale price of each item and the identity of the purchaser. Compensatory and punitive damages are also sought.

Smith, Stratton, Wise and Heber of Princeton are representing the Greenses.

FIVE ARE FINED

In Township Court, Five Princeton area residents were fined last week by Township Magistrate Glen H. Miller Jr.
Simon Fried, 55, 34 Howe
Circle, was fined $12 for failing to yield after stopping at a stop sign, and $6 for no license in possession. Mr.
Fried pleaded not guilty to the stop sign infraction.

Carlton R. Nostrand, 21, of Cranbury, also paid two fines:
$10 for passing at a double yellow line and $12 for a red light violation. He denied the passing charge.

In other cases, Patricia Mc-Kellar, 25, 12 Lytle Street, paid $12 stop sign; John A.
McKinney, Jr., 20, 876 Princeton Kingston Road, paid $10.

Mail Curtailment to Begin

Along with cities and towns throughout the nation, Princeton will begin feeling the effect of the new curtailment of mail service because of the cut in federal spending required with the passing of the 10% tax surcharge bill.

Effective this week, all regular Saturday window service will be discontinued, and Saturday collection of mail from street deposit boxes will follow the less frequent Sunday schedule.

Postmaster John Diworth
also announced that all planned extensions of city and rural delivery were curtailed as of July 1, and that there are no plans to provide mail delivery service to new housing subdivisions and apartment projects.

failing to yield before entering a private drive; and Emro Wayno, 41, Plymouth, Pa., an employee at Urken's Hardware, 27 Witherspoon Street, paid $205, driving while under the influence of liquor. Mr.
Wayno pleaded guilty.

Jacques M. Assour, 30 Taylor Road, charged as a disorderly person, received a fine of $30 which was suspended.

 loud and abusive language to ward special officer Albert J. Procaccino on July 4 at the intersection of Western Way and Fitz Randolph Road.

In Borough Court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Tamm Jr. accepted a guilty plea from James J. Carson, 47, 54 Leigh Avenue, on four motor vehicle violations but postponed sentencing for two weeks.

Mr. Carson pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident, using false license plates and being an unlicensed driver.

Andre Bourgeois, 30, Route 518, Hopewell; Alain L. Kornhauser, 24, Lawrence Apartments; and Milton L. Cranshaw, 43, Lawrenceville Road, paid $22, $20 and $16 respectively for speeding. Red light violations cost William P. Shields, 19, 23 Chestnut Street, and Gail W. Nathan, 33, Woodman Road, Pennington, $12 each.

Elizabeth D. Somers, 48, 49 Moran Avenue, paid $15 for following too closely, and Carl Carlson, 61, Sunset Hill, paid $12, stop sign.

In criminal court, Sandra Mendossa, 46, 11 Leigh Avenue, received a 90 day sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse for being drunk and disorderly on Witherspoon Street.

LEAVING CLOISTER: Mother Catherine Mullen of the Sacred Heart School of the Sacred Heart has applied for release from her vows. See Topics of the Town.

9 Meadowview Drive, Cranbury both on July 20, and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Velazquez, 178 Grant Avenue, Hightstown, July 21.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Allen of 43 Yorkshire Drive, Hightstown, on July 12 at Princeton Hospital.

NUN ASKS RELEASE

From Religious Vows. Mother Catherine Mullen, sudanese director at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, has asked to return to secular life, according to an announcement by Mother Mary Bush, headmistress.

A letter received last week by the Stuart students, Mother Bush wrote:

"You and your parents will be sorry to learn that Sister Mullen will not be at Stuart next year. After much thought and prayer she has asked to be released from her vows and to leave the religious life."

"Because the approval for such a request takes considerable time, she has also asked to be excommunicated after August 23rd, when she will leave Newton College at the end of the Harvard summer session. This means that after this date Sister Mullen will be living outside of the convent in secular dress."

"I realize the great sorrow that this news will bring to so many of you who love Sister Mullen dearly. We have all recognized and deeply appreciated the quality of her teaching and her loving understanding of those under her care."

"She loves you all and has enjoyed working with you in school as well as in the many community service projects. In return there is no better way that you can show your gratitude and love for her at this time."

Time. Then by respecting her personal decision about God's direction for her at this time."

Some of you may wish to write to Sister Mullen at Newton College, Newton, Massachusetts 02450. After August 23rd she can be reached at 18 Harwood Road, East Greenwich, Rhode Island."

Mother Bush, who is on retreat in Portsmouth, told the students that she hoped to see Sister Mullen before her return on August 5.

Mother Mullen was a member of the advisory committee for volunteer service at the New Jersey Neuro-psychiatric Institute.

COMPUTER PURCHASE SET
 By Princeton University. Plans to purchase a $2.7 million computer and construction of a new building to house it were announced this week by Princeton University president Robert P. Goheen, as another step in the college's $82 million program for academic development.

A National Science Foundation grant of $1.2 million will enable the university to acquire an IBM 360 Model 91 computer and related equipment. The machine is one of only 16 manufactured by IBM and will give Princeton 400 percent more "computing power" according to Ronald Buhler, director of the computer center.

Dr. Goheen announced the appointment of a new computer center, Inc., of Philadelphia, to build the lower level of a new computer center building, originally scheduled for last year but delayed due to lack of funds.

The structure, to be located on university property between Prospect Avenue and Westmont Avenue, will eventually include three floors of office space and a lower level for the computer, all at a cost of almost $2.2 million. John P. Moran, general manager of planning, plant and properties, said the 25,000-square-foot level will be completed for computer installation by next May.

The new computer will replace the university's two major existing machines, an IBM 7091 and an IBM 360 Model 67. New features are time sharing, by which as many as 150 persons may use the machine at once, and remote job entry, to make use of the central machine possible from several "satellite" computers at different locations on campus.

The recently-announced program for academic development includes computer-related sciences among five essentials for Princeton's future," allotting $15.5 million for a new computer, construction and building maintenance, four endowed professorships and fellowships. The fund raising will continue for five years.

MORE MUSIC PLANNED
 By Community Band. The next concert of the Community Band will be held Friday at 8 p.m. on the front campus of Princeton High School.

Conductor George W. Soete plans an evening of favorite band selections and selected instrumentals.

PERMIT SOUGHT
 To Teach Creative Arts. At its monthly meeting Thursday evening in Borough Hall, the Zoning Board will hear an application from Robert B. Moyer, 63 Levers Lane, for permission to teach creative arts.

mission to teach creative arts in his home which is located in a residential zone. Classes would be limited to not more than five people.

In two other cases, Princeton University will request time extensions for variances previously granted by the board. One involves its proposed $2 million computer center to be located between Prospect Avenue and Palmer Stadium and east of Roper Lane. The University has already been granted one extension which expired July 1.

The second request is for the University's proposed extension of Firestone Library which will extend almost to the Nassau Street sidewalk. Virtually all of the extension will be located below ground level.

TOUR PREVIEW PLANNED
By Columbus Boychoir. One of the programs planned for Columbus Boychoir's South American tour will be previewed for a Princeton audience Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hun School.

The concert will feature "The Golden Vandy," an opera for boys by Benjamin Britten, and music from the Renaissance, folksongs and spirituals.

The group will leave Thursday, August 1, for a tour of five South American countries. They will sing August 24 for the Eucharistic Congress in Bogota, Columbia, where the Pope is expected to be in attendance.

2ND RECEPTION PLANNED
For Democratic Candidates,
Jim Floyd and Tom Hartmann, candidates for Township Committee, will be on hand this Sunday from 4 to 6

at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Carl H. Haag, 73 Ridgeview Circle. The informal reception is the second in a series designed to introduce the candidates to Township voters.

The Haag home is in District
Nine, but residents of other Township districts are welcome. Those planning to attend should call Mrs. Haag at 921-5877.

Last Saturday, the candidates made a walking tour of the Community Park Swimming Pool. They spoke with Township residents on issues ranging from schools, taxation and the use of Research Park, to minibuses, housing and the condition of the Shopping Center. Vietnam was also discussed.

NEW RABBI ARRIVES

At Jewish Center. Rabbi Reeve R. Brenner, first rabbi in America to become a full faculty member of a Roman Catholic college, last week assumed spiritual leadership of the Princeton Jewish Center.

A scholar and author of a number of published articles in the fields of theology, law, German and American Jewish history, Rabbi Brenner was resident lecturer in the religious studies department of 122-year-old St. Vincent College and Seminary, Latrobe, Pa. Some 70 students were enrolled in his classes, "An Introduction to Judaism" and "A Survey of Jewish Religious Thought."

He comes to Princeton from Temple Beth Am at Monessen, in the Mon Valley near Pittsburgh, Pa. The Temple was formed last January, merging Monessen conservatives with the reformed congregation at Chardofa. From May, 1966, until the merger, Rabbi Brenner had been conducting re-form and conservative services on alternate Sabbaths at the two synagogues.

The situation is somewhat comparable to the Princeton Jewish Center where, during the past six years, Friday worship has tended towards the reform and Sabbath services have been more orthodox.

Wife a Social Worker. These differing aspects of today's Judaism, and the gray areas and between them, are in some ways reflected in the Brenner household. Mrs. Brenner, a psychiatric social worker, is the daughter of an orthodox rabbi. "I am more liberal myself," says her husband.

RABBI REEVE BRENNER, who once had an offer to fry out for the Phillies infield, conducted his first service Friday at the Princeton Jewish Center. A congregation reception is being planned to welcome Rabbi Brenner and his wife.

Both Brenners have non-Jewish first names. Joyce and Reeve Robert, as was popular a generation ago. But their daughters' names reflect this generation's quiet pride in their faith. The oldest, age 3, is called Nevea Lat, Hebrew for "You are our creation," and the baby is Nurele Leor, "The heart of the flame bestows light upon us."

Sunday a week and the Brenners moved into 21 Forrester Drive. The household was in trim after nine days later and the rabbi's study already had lived in look to it.

A well-knit, dark-eyed man with tousled brown hair, he moved about the study with a athlete's easy grace, a blitheness left from his days as a member of the basket ball and baseball teams at the City College of New York. "I consider myself reasonably satisfied already," he said between incessant phone calls.

Graduated With Honors. Rabbi Brenner was a member of the class of 1957 at CCNY. He was graduated with honors in sociology.

He attended the Hebrew Union College Jewish Institute of Religion, New York, for five years and was ordained in 1964. He is a member of a distinguished Jewish family which includes Zionist author Joseph Haim Brenner and Ludwig Zamehof, creator of the universal language, Esperanto.

He and his wife spent 1961-62 in Israel, studying at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He served Congregation Beth Hillel in Jackson Heights, Queens during the two years following.

He was an Army chaplain for two years, stationed in Nuremberg, Germany, and in the Rhineland. During these years, his daughter Nevea was born in Verdun, France. "In order that she not be born in Germany," Rabbi Brenner said.

Lectured in East Germany. During his chaplaincy, he lectured in Berlin and in East Germany. A brass memorial in the study is a testimonial from an East German congregation. For all the loss of many of its young people to the Berlin congregation, he said, "is the most thriving in all Germany."

During his tenure at Monessen, Rabbi Brenner was a chaplain at the Torrance State Mental Hospital, a founder of the Greater Pittsburgh Rabbinical Fellowship, a member of the major-appointed Human Relations Commission of Monessen and was the B'nai B'rith's western Pennsylvania chairman for adult education.

His wife, equally active, was employed at the Council House Jewish Center, a rehabilitation in Pittsburgh, a rehabilitation center for psychiatric patients. She was a member of the Monessen mayor's subcommittee on minority housing, and is a contributing editor of "The Jewish Social Work Forum." Her husband is one of the founders of the Foundation for Advanced Psychotherapy.

Rabbi Brenner has published a number of articles in The Reconstructionist, the American Jewish Congress, the Jewish Spectator and other journals. His 50-line poem, "Reflections on a Heart" appears in the Pennsylvania poetry anthology, "A Goodly Heritage," published this month.

In discussion, Rabbi Brenner said and then speaking in support of an unexpressed need. Commenting on the America by Austin. The first car built to be a second car.

Up until now, you didn't have much choice when it came to a second car.

You could buy a new one—and lay out a big hunk of cash. Or you could settle for a used one—and spend a bundle trying to fix it up.

Now there's the America.

It's roomy without being big. Economical without being small. Dependable without being lifeless.

If the America sounds like a perfect second car, it should. It's built that way.

You can bet your life it's the world's safest small car.

SAB is not an ordinary small car. Why not? Because most ordinary small cars don't give you even as options, all the safety features that are standard on SAB. Take the dual diagonal braking system on SAB, for instance. It's the safest on any car.

All About Bubbles, Diamonds and Scholarships

Princeton, which thrives on controversy, has another one, seemingly small but not to those involved.

It is not so much a tempest in a teapot as it is a predicament in a pool. The predicament centers around mothers with young children, mostly between ages 4 to 7, who are too big for the wading pool at Community Park but too small for the main pool's three and one half foot depth.

Mothers have been strapping water bubbles — highly effective float devices made of cork or styrofoam (see photo) — on their children's backs to keep their heads above water, but the Joint Recreation Commission has a rule banning all such water paraphernalia in the main pool and diving pool.

Some 30 residents attended last week's meeting of the Recreation Board, which overruled the opinion of the pool, to ask questions, offer advice or request action on the ban and whether new issue — the construction of a Little League baseball field for boys 9 to 12. Even old issues surfaced, gain: pool scholarships, the financial "means" test, Monday closing, free swim periods, fees, self-explaining versus tax-supported pool. . . . It all had a familiar ring.

"Why Can't You? . . ." About the water bubbles: Mrs. John L. Harrison, 335 Walnut Lane, rose and presented a list of requests concerning water bubbles, adding that, self-explaining not for herself but for a number of mothers. She asked that the water level in the main pool be lowered six inches if possible (it would render the pool's deck level filter system inoperable); that section for small children be roped off and supervised by life guards; and that the use of water bubbles be permitted.

She suggested that all non-swimmers wear a bright-colored identification bracelet. A long range suggestion, she proposed that a separate learners' pool be constructed. Edward Berchem, director of the pool, described for Mrs. Harrison the problem facing the Recreation Commission. He reported that too many mothers were putting their children in the pool with bubbles and leaving them for periods of 20 minutes or longer. "We felt this was too much of a responsibility for the life guards to assume."

Use Became Abused. "We never," he continued, "denied any youngster who didn't swim the use of the main pool as long as he was accompanied by a parent. The guards just sort of ignored it at first," he said. "But then it became abused and we had to stop it."

Complaining of the poor design of the pools for children of different ages in the same family, Mrs. Harrison who has two children, 5 and 7, replied that she could not always be in the water with both children. "If a child has to depend on me to be with him all the time, he'll be deprived of a great deal of swim time," she said. "I feel if a mother is on a deck nearby, that should be sufficient."

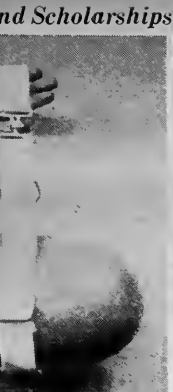

Mrs. Robert Gutman, 180 Jefferson Road, told the board that her five-year-old used to enjoy swimming with the bubble. "Now," she said, "all she does is hang on the side." She informed the board that the YMCA encourages the use of a bubble.

Hawley Waterman of Snow Lane, athletic director at the Hun School, told the board he was in favor of water bubbles. "I always have," he said. "Children learn to swim faster with them. I think a kid is safer with a bubble on," he continued. "By his wearing one you can see he's a non-swimmer. I think you're making a mistake."

Extra lifeguards? Mrs. Harrison, who suggested that if extra life guards were needed, the mothers might be willing to pay for them, got support from Mrs. Roger Sullivan, 139 Laurel Road. She suggested allowing bubbles for a specific time perhaps one hour a day.

Mrs. Albert Hawkins, 86 Longview Drive and Mrs. Shirley Woodbridge, 173 Hickory Court, in a letter, also attacked the ban. "The silliest thing I ever heard" said a merchant who sells the bubbles.

WITCHCRAFT: Lorin Zissman and Kate Litvak have the leads in the Princeton Community Players' production of "The Lady's Not For Burning." Christopher Fry's morality comedy about a suspected witch. The play will be given in the Open Air Theatre at Washington Crossing State Park at 4:45 this Friday, Saturday and Sunday and at Murray Theatre by Summer Intime next Tuesday and Wednesday.

News Of The THEATRES

MARK YOUR BOOK
For Intime Programs. In the next two weeks, Summer Intime will host the Princeton Community Players' production of "The Lady's Not For Burning," present its own double bill of "Krapf's Last Tape" and "Don Juan in Hell," and sponsor concerts featuring folk singer Cynthia Gooding and the flamenco music of Dominick Zullo and Diana Raquel. The Community Players will be on stage in the Christopher Fry play next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 30 and 31. Lorin Zissman and Kate Litvak have the leads, directed by Leo Cohen. The cast includes Morris Yaguda, Rosemarie Arcieri, Bernie Miller, Bob Peck, Samuel Leck, Jim McDonald, Peter Hirsch and Henry Drow.

Samuel Beckett's "Krapf's Last Tape," with Frederic O'Brady in the solo role, and G. B. Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell," taken from Man and Superman, will be paired on Wednesday and Thursday, August 6 and 7. Cynthia Gooding's first solo concert in several years is scheduled for August 13, followed by the flamenco concert by Zullo and Raquel on August 14.

Tickets to the Tuesday and Wednesday events are $2 (half-price for subscribers) and may be obtained at the Murray Theatre box office, 452-3637.

CHILLER IS NEXT
By Summer Intime, "The Trial," adapted for the stage by Andre Gide and Jean-Louis Barrault from the Franz Kafka novel, opens this Thursday at the Murray Theatre as the third in the summer Intime repertory series.

A chilling tale of one man's encounter with the law and his gradual destruction by blind justice, "The Trial" has been given a new interpretation by director Geoff Beckett. The play is re-oriented to acknowledge its own theatricality. The central figure, Joseph K., played by Jon Lorrain, becomes an innocent viewer, enticed to enter into the play and so take an irrevocable step toward his own death.

In something of a tour de force, the remainder of the eight performers of the summer company will appear in about 40 different roles as characters who interact with the victim K.

Performances are at 8:30 this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with additional shows set for August 1, 9 and 10. Seats are $2 on Thursdays and $3 on Fridays and Saturdays in the air-conditioned Murray Theatre. Reservations and information may be obtained by calling 452-3637.

"WATERFRONT" IS NEXT in Film Festival. "On the Waterfront," Academy Award-winning story of New York City docks, will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday as the fifth film in the Summer Intime series of classics.

Directed by Elia Kazan, with music by Leonard Bernstein, the cast includes Marlon Brando, Karl Malden, Lee J. Cobb, Rob Reiger and Eve Marie Saint.

The film will be shown in air-conditioned McCormick 101, just behind Murray Theatre. Tickets are available at the door.

SECOND CONCERT SET
In Outdoor Series. A concert of trios by William Steek, violinist; Frederick Zenone, cellist; and Marlon Zarzeczna, pianist, will be held at 8:30 Monday outdoors at the Graduate School of Princeton University. Admission is free. The rain date is Tuesday.

The first in the Princeton Summer Chamber Music Series drew a capacity audience of 700 to the Graduate School quadrangle on July 17 to a concert by a chamber group from the Yale summer concerts. Although it had been a hot day, the quadrangle was cool. The acoustics were pronounced perfect by performers and audiences alike.

Monday's program will be the Beethoven Trio Op. 1 No. 3; Brahms' Trio Op. 8, and Schubert's Op. 100. Mr. Steek, a Philadelphian, made his solo debut with the Philadelphia. Continued on Next Page phia Orchestra. He has been a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, violinist with the Trio di Perugia and has toured this country as a soloist. He is associate concertmaster of the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia.

Mr. Zenone, a free-lance cellist from New York, has appeared here with the Allegria String Quartet and as a recitalist in New York and Philadelphia. The third member of the trio, Miss Zarzeczna, is a member of the Curtis Institute faculty. Her recitals have taken her to the major cities of Europe and the United States, where she has drawn plaudits for her exceptional technique and understanding.

OPERA BLUESTOCKING

At Sundance, Opera Bluestocking, a chamber opera company which appeared recently at the Theatre for Ideas in New York City, will be featured in three one-act operas Friday at Sundance, the outdoor theatre near Upper Back Eddy in Bucks County, Pa.

The company will perform Bela Bartok's "Bluebeard's Castle," "The Secular Mask" by William Boyce, and Meyer Karpman's "In a Garden."

The following evening, the Princeton String Quartet will play Joseph Haydn's "Seven Last Words of Christ," a cycle with introduction, seven movements and finale. The performance is designated as an act of mourning for victims of the war in Vietnam.

Reservations and further information are available from Sundance, Upper Back Eddy, Pa. 18972, telephone 215-847-5393.

PIANO CONCERT SET

By Elmer Heereema. A public recital of selections by Schubert, Finny, Chopin and Milhaud will be given by Elmer Heereema of the New School for Music Study at 8 p.m. Monday in the Playhouse at Westminster Choir College.

The concert is the opening event of the week-long summer study course for piano teachers which begins this Sunday at the New School. More than 150 will attend the course.

Mr. Heereema, who holds degrees from Westminster and from Catholic University, is chairman of the New School professional department. The concert is one of four he will give at summer study courses around the country.

The program includes Sonata in A Minor, Op. Post. 161; Allegro ma non troppo; Allegretto qua si andantino, and Allegro Vivace, all by Schubert. Other selections will be Finny's Nostalgic Waltzes, Chatterbox, Intimate Capricious, Conversational and Boisterous; Chopin's Nocturne in F Sharp Minor, Op. 48, No. 2; and Etude in C Minor, Op. 25, No. 12, and compositions by Milhaud.

A special grant has been awarded to the New School by the Baldwin Piano and Organ Company, according to an announcement by Frances Clark, New School president, for its contributions in music education.

The Players' next production will be "Wildcat," set for September 12, 13 and 14. Auditions may be arranged for Saturday or Sunday by calling 737-1845 for an appointment. Singers and dancers should bring their own material for auditions.

GARDEN and BRUNSWICK
Guess Who's Coming To Dinner (now playing) concerns the romance between a white girl and a Negro, and the effects of the situation upon their families.

Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn are cast as the San Francisco newspaper publisher and his caretaker, who runs an art gallery. Their daughter, played by Katherine Houghton, returns home from an Hawaiian vacation which was shortened because she fell in love with Gregory Peck, cast as a distinguished research doctor who is enroute to Switzerland. His stopover in San Francisco can only be for a single day, during which he comes to dinner with the intention of marrying the girl.

The audience is thrown right into the midst of the situation. The film, which it sinks the cards a bit in the casting of Peck, pulls few punches. The portrayal by the late Spencer Tracy is earthy and realistic. Miss Hepburn conveys the shock of the situation with subtle humor and grace. Peck and Katherine Houghton, Miss Hepburn's niece, give capable performances as does Beah Richards as Peck's mother.

PLAYHOUSE and PRINCE
Rosemary's Baby (now playing) is a horror story. From an opening where a loving young couple happily decorate their apartment, it gradually takes on a more and more nightmare quality. Rosemary becomes more and more a prisoner in an irrational world—whether of her own devising, or whether she is really a pawn of satanic forces is impossible to determine.

Under Roman Polanski's creative direction, this insane world becomes believable, peopled with mad and weird characters. Rosemary becomes convinced that the old couple who take such solicitous interest in her unborn baby are diabolical witches heading a coven in the apartment house. She believes that they are after her baby to use its blood for their rituals.

Mr. Farrow gives a sensitive performance as Rosemary. John Cassavetes is not quite so effective as her husband, but the rest of the cast does a wonderful job. Dialogue is minimal; some details are never explained. Freudianism runs rampant, with special effects in the nightmare scenes, which include nudly sequences.

It's an adult film that will probably earn a place among film classics. It's not for the very young and perhaps pregnant women should see it at their own risk.

said, as a result of the poor playing conditions.

"I think the community should feel guilty," said Mr. Schmidt. "No one has spent a nickel on us for a long time. I never see one bit of help any place. I think we deserve a little."

set of lights which could be used for night games.

In reply, Mr. Barr announced that the Grover Avenue playground was under the Township Committee jurisdiction. As for using a Community Park field, he said, there was no problem, aside from the difficulty of scheduling the youth leagues in Community Park is used four nights a week by the Adult Softball League.

Mr. Kopp was told to come back with a written proposal listing the specific field the group wanted. Will there be lights? Will it be used only by Little League players? How would it be funded? "We have to know a lot of things before we can say yes or no to any proposal," said Mr. Barr.

More on the Pools, Mrs. Benson Carlin, 228 Terhune Road, one of the first to speak, had a list of remarks about the pools which she ticked off one by one. The fees, she said, were too high; they should be reduced by half. She was against the two free swim periods, especially the 8:11 session, which created two classes of citizens.

She suggested the board create a "truly open scholarship program" where in one could obtain a scholarship simply by asking for one. She added that she believed the abuse of such a procedure would be "small." In addition, she was opposed to Monday closings and the high guest rate. (The board did take action on the latter. See box, page 28.)

As a major recommendation, Mrs. Carlin urged the board to appoint a citizens' advisory committee. "You must have been reading our minds," replied chairman John Conroy. "This is something we have talked about and plan to do."

The issue of scholarship as a means test refused to die. Pointing out that she was appalled to learn that obtaining a scholarship involved first a trip to a welfare agency, then a check with a school psychologist, Mrs. Carlin exclaimed: "I don't think this patronizing way the way to do it. Don't

Apartment Project Opposed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I am much disturbed to hear that Franklin Township is being urged to support a variance to allow 816 apartments to be built near Kingston, and that a new shopping center and garage are proposed there as well.

The developers will undoubtedly tell you that bringing more people and shops to the area will relieve taxes. For a short time this may be true, but soon more services will be needed, more police, bigger roads and more of them, more maintenance men and so forth. All of this costs the taxpayer more money, not less.

We have an example of Shopping Centers here in Princeton Township. The paint is peeling, its parking area and sidewalks are unkempt, but in the beginning it PROMISED to be wonderful.

If the 816-apartment project goes through, there will be the sewage to dispose of. Even though a modern sewerage system is installed, the resulting effluent will still have the plant nutrients. This effluent will certainly run into the Millstone River, promote more undesirable weed growth, and raise the river level.

The whole region will be affected. Traffic will increase in all directions, adding exhaust fumes to the atmosphere. Perhaps there will be a new incinerator to pollute the air further. But what you will do with all the unbearable refuse I have no idea.

The new streets, parking areas, and roofs will cause rain-water to run off instead of soaking into the land to make the underground water system from which you draw much drinking water. From which the trees take water for their existence. Too. Storm sewers will, of course, carry this run-off to the Millstone River adding to the severity of floods lower down before the water is eventually lost in the sea.

While this run-off problem may seem relatively small, it is a very serious factor in the Millstone valley. I have heard it said that in time drinking water in this area may cost as much as gasoline.

These things and more should be considered before the apartments, garage and shopping center are allowed to arise.

ELIZABETH G. C. MENZIES
926 Kingston Road.

Fine Service Commended.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I have just had occasion to benefit from, and observe some of the other activities of, a service in town that others may not know about.

Mrs. Allery Graves, of Kingston Road, has for about ten years been in charge of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League. Somehow, in addition to running a busy household of her own, she has, without charge, helped to provide homes for lost or abandoned dogs and cats. I understand the phone rings constantly, day and night, and I have recently been one of the people indebted to her for advice, kindness, practical help. This summer is proving a busy time — something like 20 pets have been placed in welcoming families.

There is as yet no shelter for the animals: Mrs. Graves tries to place them immediately, but also has to rely on kennels when there is a time-lag. As someone who has recently benefited from her services, I simply wanted to commend this fine service to others, and incidentally, wonder if sometime she would not be an excellent candidate for Wardens of the Millstone.

FLORENCE M. KELLEY

Where Was Humphrey?

To the Editor of Town Topics:
America's needs have never been so great, so immediate, or so well documented — yet our people doubt about priorities. While impoverished Black and White Americans suffer, our national budget shows we are far more committed to the people of Vietnam.

The increasing numbers of people who talk of the need to rearrange our priorities is indeed encouraging. Let's not, however, be deceived by what may be just political expediency.

After four years of extraordinary acquiescence, Hubert Humphrey would have to believe he'll do things differently. What are his real convictions? Where was he in February, 1967 when Eugene McCarthy said, "... in every other great war, we have had the support of what is generally accepted as the decent opinion of mankind. We do not have that today."

It was considered political suicide to speak out so forcefully then against the war. Now that it would be political suicide to support the Administration's war policy, we are hearing what Humphrey supposedly would do as captain of his own team.

Since Mr. Humphrey would evidently rather be Vice-President than right, what conclusions can we draw about his performance if he were to become President? It certainly is hard to imagine him abandoning a great deal of his caution and stepping out with the bold, decisive, courageous changes needed so badly at home and abroad.

Senator McCarthy has shown that he has the insight to recognize the problems we face and the courage to take action. He is criticized by some for being impractical, and for what they take to be a lack of interest in urban problems. What those critics seem to forget is that not much can be done in our cities without a great deal of the money that is currently being sent to Vietnam, and Senator McCarthy was the first to point that out. I wouldn't call that impractical.

Senator McCarthy is not a conventional politician, but we are confronted with problems that won't be solved with conventional answers.

Senator McCarthy is a concerned, dedicated, ethical human being with experience and wisdom, and enough idealism to lead America to what it should be.

Two Changes in Pool Policy

The Recreation Board, following its executive session last week, has made two changes in its rules concerning the Community Park Pools. Henceforth, Fresh Air Fund Children who are guests of Princeton families will be admitted to the pool free for the duration of their stay in Princeton. Application for such a permit should be made at the Recreation Department. The host family, if it does not have a family permit, can enter by paying the daily admission fee.

The daily admission fee policy has been altered to permit acceptance of such fees right up to the 8 p.m. closing time. Previously, only season ticket holders and those with free swim passes were allowed in the pool between 6 and 8 p.m. — Use period of the second free swim.

This means that out-of-town guests and Princeton residents who have not joined the pool or taken out free swim permits may use the pool after 6 by paying the daily fee. Princeton residents, however, must be able to show — through a driver's license or some similar means proof of their residency.

The daily fee for residents 16 and over is $1.; for those 13 and under, 50¢. For guests, the corresponding fees are $1.50 and $1. Daily fees for weekends and holidays for residents are $1.50 and 75¢; for guests, $2 and $1.25.

The ban on all water paraphernalia in the main pool and diving pool, including plastic and cork water bubbles used to support children, remains in effect.

make people demean themselves by forcing them to go to a welfare agency when they are not on welfare."

How Many Scholarships?
"How many families," asked Seymour Alpert of 27 Random Road, "have applied through the Family Service Agency for a pool scholarship?"

"I think it is 15 families," answered Mr. Barr. "The means test always falls down. Someone has to apply. It snags of Lady Blandish giving the poor a break," observed Mr. Alpert. "If only 15 families have applied, it seems to me something is wrong; something else should be tried."

Let the Taxpayer Pay. "I think all fees should be paid by the taxpayer," stated Mrs. Maureen Rapp, 165 Clover Lane. "That's entirely out of our hands," replied Mr. Conroy. "In essence what you are all saying," Mr. Conroy added, in trying to sum up all the remarks, "is that we eliminate all free swim periods, make everyone pay, but at lower fees."

Mr. Barr emphasized again the oft repeated comment that the Recreation Board has an agreement with the Borough that the Township and the pools be self sustaining. It appears that the pools are just going to be able to do that and no more this season.

The estimated operating expenses for the pool complex is $10,400. Of that, the board still has a $4,000 plus deficit to make up. Nearly all will have to come from daily admission fees but they are running behind last year's figures because of the large number of persons (more than 4,000) who have taken advantage of the free swim periods. Using last year's figures as a guide, Mr. Barr said that some $1,250 will be raised during July and August from general admission fees. "It's going to be close," he said.

In addition, family ticket income is down. After May the board was $6,000 ahead of last year. Then came June and the introduction of the second free period. Pool income in June for 1968 was $18,490 compared to $27,621 in 1967. "It's something to consider," said Mr. Barr.

IN FATAL ACCIDENT
Loses License for Fifteen Months. Frank Roth Jr., 50, of North Post Road, has had his license suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles for being involved in a fatal accident. He was halted for 18 months.

Four others surrendered their licenses for speeding. They are Julian J. Devries, 27, Nassau Inn, 60 days; David M.

Russino, 20, Heather Lane, 45 days; Donna I. Kalmus, 29, 79 Wheatstall Lane, and Russell V. Way Jr., 28, 234 Moore Street, both 30 days.

Halted by the state for exceeding the point limit are Philip M. Manseri, 3d, 30, Millstone River Apartments, three months, and Anthony J. Milewski, 26, 342 N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, two months.

FUR FASHIONS FOR '69
Shown by Flemington Fur. Furs handled young and easy, with imagination and fine craftsmanship, were shown last week by the Flemington Fur Co. at a press luncheon and fashion show at the Playhouse Inn in New Hope.

Fur furs, using fine furs, were very "au courant." A broadtail lamb pantsuit, a mink paw ski jacket, a belted seal parka, His and Her fur coats in Canadian hair seal, and a coat truly designed for a Princetonian — Indian Tiger (great for the football season) — all attested to the fact that fur can be for all ages, both sexes, and priced at reasonable levels.

Tailored elegance with beautiful workmanship was seen in golden tawny colors in Persians and Minks that very often were belted and belted with easy skirt fullness ending just above the knee. A favorite was a cocoa-brown dyed broadtail skimmer dress with matching short coat that reversed to mink.

Furs from the casual to the magnificent are on display at Flemington Fur, 8 Spring Street, Flemington. The showroom is open daily, including Sundays, until 6, and Wednesday and Friday evenings until 10.

GLIDER PILOT INJURED

In Crash Near Hopewell. A physicist at the RCA Research Laboratories in Princeton was injured last Wednesday when his new, $3,000 glider crashed in a wooded area off Blackwell Road, Hopewell Township at 3:30 p.m. Albrecht G. Fischer, 41 Carnton Place, Lawrence Township, was treated for a possible concussion and cuts of the head and right leg at Mercer Hospital.

The power-assisted glider plunged down from about 250 feet, according to state trooper John Logan, who witnessed the crash. Mr. Logan said Mr. Fischer was attempting a turn when the glider fell. It took 15 minutes to find the injured man in the dense woods. Mr. Fischer, 40 years old, had test flown the German-made glider to Elmira New York, a week before the crash. He had taken off from the Twin Pines Airfield on Route 516.

AES TOURS PRINCETON
With Area Host Families. More than 40 American Field Service students toured the Princeton area last weekend, near the end of a bus tour across the country that will close their years in the United States.

Arriving Thursday from Washington, the guests represented 11 foreign countries, including India, Italy and Morocco. A full day Friday included a tour of the Princeton University campus and a swimming-picnic supper at Shipetaukin Farm Day Camp, Lawrenceville Road.

THE DRAFT, CONSCIENCE AND THE CHURCH: Should the church support those who evade the draft for reasons of conscience? Yes, says Harvey White, a student at Princeton Theological Seminary, who adds: "I think the essence of Christianity is allegiance to one's own conscience. . . ." (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: In your opinion, should the church give official support to those who resist the draft or refuse to bear arms for reasons of conscience?

Where asked: Princeton Theological Seminary campus.

Harvey White, Princeton Theological Seminary student: Yes I do, because I think the essence of Christianity is allegiance to one's own conscience and personal relationship to God. The church should support the individual when he makes decisions in the light of a realistic appraisal of his own beliefs.

Paul Vannozzi, Trenton, electrician: I feel if you are able-bodied and you are called, you should go. I don't feel one should seek refuge in a church. If you don't want to shoot anybody there are plenty of jobs to be done where you don't have to be on the front line. You could work in a hospital, as a cook, construction worker. There are lots of fields you don't have to do any fighting in. I think the church should teach faith and the government should take care of the army. The two are separate.

Thomas Bigley, Morrisville, electrician: I was over there twice. I just got back this month. I say if I can go twice, they can go once. I don't think the church should tell the government how to run their affairs and the government shouldn't tell the church how to run theirs. They should be separate and keep out of each other's way.

Kenneth Vaex, Champaign, Rice University, Houston, Texas: I feel very positive that the church should. I feel that way for two reasons: (1) for the kind of moral absence that I have of this particular war, and (2), perhaps a more basic reason. This is the level of personality the church should protect—even if the church had a commitment that was in contrast to the view of conscience that sought sanctuary! That's what happened in Germany in time of war. The German Christian church had a contrasting view of conscience so it refused to tolerate the confessing church, men like Bonhoeffer, and so on.

Charles West, 29 Alexander Street, professor at Princeton Theological Seminary: Yes, I think the church should. I think the church should support anyone who is acting according to true conscience. That doesn't mean the church always has to agree with what they do but it should support them in taking their faith and conscience seriously.

Paul E. Meglathery, Trenton, minister: Sure they should support them. I think you used the word conscience in there.

My church feels that a person's conscience is somewhat inviolate. If this is the decision he's come to in an honest appraisal of the situation, then I have to feel it is worthy of my support. I may not agree with it but I would support it. I would also support him against his critics by letting him have a voice, if he were unable to obtain a voice of his own, regardless of how many people were opposed.

Miss Judith Upham, Newark, graduate, Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Mass.: Yes, of course. It seems to me the gospel is very clear: a Christian is not supposed to kill other people. I probably would have fought in World War II—I don't know, not having had to face that decision—but I certainly would have nothing to do with militarism at this time. I think that is one of the greatest dangers our country is facing. I also think the church should give official support to those who do bear arms for reasons of conscience. I think if a Christian has decided, after giving full weight to all the factors, including the gospel, if he has decided that he has been called to do this particular thing, then I think the church should support him—for reasons of conscience. That's the important phrase. I don't see, reasonably, how anybody could be interested in fighting in the Vietnamese war. On the other hand, if they feel called they should do it. God doesn't call everybody to do the same thing.

Robert Utgoff, student, Princeton seminary: Yes, the church has to support any individual who is dealing with a problem whether or not it agrees with his position. It has to support him while he works his way through. It is unfortunate that there are individual churches who will stick by a member trying to work his way through a problem.

George Rightley, Mercerville, member of the grounds department, Princeton Seminary: I don't think the church should have anything to do with the military. I think the government has got a job cut out for itself and that job is to protect the people in our country. Individually, the churches can help out any way they want to—a minister could counsel a soldier—but as far as the church trying to run the military, I don't think they stand a chance.

David Frame, Morrisville, assistant pastor, Morrisville Methodist Church: I'm a Methodist. The Methodist Church officially supports conscientious objectors and conscientious participants. However, a conscientious objector, as defined by the government classification is one who objects to all wars. This, I think, is an unrealistic position. A more realistic position for the church to take would be for it to support those who object to a particular war for matters of conscience. That's more realistic than to say "opposed to all war." I'm not opposed to all war—I'm not a pacifist—there comes a time when one must fight.

BUSINESS In Princeton

OUTLOOK ENCOURAGING.

In Second Quarter Index, in the face of the 10% tax surcharge, a definite possibility through the first part of the second quarter and a reality during the last, the TOWN TOPICS quarterly business index posted some important plus signs. The gains are indicative, perhaps, that most Princetonians are not unduly worried about the extra bite out of their paychecks.

Savings and checking accounts, loans, new car sales, new housing starts and property transfers all increased from the previous quarter, some by wide margins. Upwings were also recorded in comparison with last year's second period figures, a more reliable sign of continued growth.

The overall picture, however, is not as bullish as it might appear, with one or two soft spots, cropping up. Building permits in both Borough and Township have dropped from last year. The gain from the first quarter is virtually automatic, as construction is always at a low point during the year's first three months, marked by cold weather.

The value of building permits was one of the few indicators showing a decline from the last quarter, in addition to last year, thus, although the number of projects was up numerically from the January-March period, the figures indicate that these undertakings were of a minor nature.

Banking Figures Strong. Three sets of figures almost guaranteed to increase from one year to the next are those reflecting the growth of Princeton's four financial institutions. Savings and checking accounts and loans are up 8%, 4% and 4% respectively from last year, and by smaller amounts from last quarter.

In just three years' time, savings have climbed approximately 33% or more than $25.5 million, while loans have jumped 12% or more than $12 million.

Detroit's big three automakers had a strong second quarter, and so did Princeton's car dealers, achieving a 10% increase in sales on a total of 735 vehicles. The even greater 15% rise over the corresponding period a year ago is an even more welcome sign. The present figure is the highest in two years.

The final plus factors for the index this quarter were property transfers and new housing starts. The urge to move, in spite of all the attendant costs, hit more Princeton families in both municipalities during the past three months. Transfers increased 70% in the Borough and 29% in the Township from last quarter. Both figures are also up from a year ago.

New housing starts in the Township, (the Borough's doesn't reflect a trend) also advanced from both the previous quarter and from last year. Part of the increase, of course, is seasonal.

NEW MANAGER NAMED. For Princeton's Bamberger's, Mitchell Sedler, of West Orange, a former merchandise manager at Bamberger's in Paterson, has been promoted to administrator and manager of the Princeton store.

An economics graduate of New York University, Mr. Sedler joined Bamberger's as a department manager in 1957. He was promoted to merchandise manager for two floors of the Newark store in 1967 and assumed his last position in February of this year.

NASSAU TAILOR MOVES

To Witherspoon Street. The Nassau Tailor Shop will move August 1 to 14½ Witherspoon Street, occupying the second and third floors above the Princeton Army-Navy Store. Ignac Karacsony, the proprietor, said that a showroom would be located on the second floor and his shop on the third. The move was motivated partly to provide larger quarters for his customers, he said.

A professional tailor for 31 years, Mr. Karacsony came to this country from Budapest in 1936. After a nine-month stay on Nassau Street in his first tailor shop here, he moved to Chambers Street where he has remained for the past 11 years. Mr. Karacsony specializes in custom-made suits for men and women from imported English woolsens in the $200 and up bracket. However, he said that he also makes a number of tailor-made suits from less expensive fabrics.

In addition to his custom work, Mr. Karacsony offers dry cleaning, alterations and special weaving. His store is open from 9 to 6, but to accommodate those who work outside Princeton, he will stay open in the evening by appointment.

FMC GETS CONTRACT From Air Pollution Board. The National Air Pollution Control Administration has awarded a research project to the Chemical Research and Development Center of the FMC Corporation, located on Route One, to study removal of sulfur dioxide from flue gases.

The contract is part of a large survey on new processes for elimination of sulfur dioxide from stack gases, sponsored by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. FMC plans a seven-month program on the use of solid inorganic materials to remove the gas.

PROMOTION ANNOUNCED At Opinion Research. Sally M. Rhoads, 43 Humbert Street, has been promoted to assistant.

WE DO!

WHAT'S WRONG HERE? Can you find the more than 75 examples of camping errors sketched above?

Seasoned campers may well cringe at the hazards in the drawing, but if you've never gone camping, and you are thinking about it, the best thing is to learn from somebody else's experience.

Most of the accidents on a camping trip result from a simple cause — your family is faced with a change from the routine of living at home. New things that have to be done, old ones done under new circumstances, and unaccustomed exercise can make you forget the safe procedures you normally follow almost unconsciously.

Children, especially those on their first trip, will want to roam around and explore. When you first set up camp, walk around the area yourself to find any potential hazards, such as streams, ravines, or poisonous plants. Then tell the children exactly where they are free to wander and where they are not to go — and stay alert to make sure they mind you.

Keep the children with you while you set up camp, have them help you, teach them what they are allowed to do. In short, start turning them into safe, experienced campers as soon as possible.

Teach the children to leave ALL warm-blooded animals alone. Wild animals, however small or tame they may look, can be dangerous because of their teeth or claws and because they all can carry rabies.

Equip the children with a whistle attached to their clothing, but make sure they know to use the whistle only in an emergency. And teach them the old lumberjack rule, for campfires. "Clear the ground an axe-length 'round." Take care. We care!

ANSWERS

Water, at left —

Two men standing in boat. One landing fish stands on seat. Companion reaching for oar does same instead of staying seated to keep boat on even keel. At deep end of pier, unattended toddler with no life jacket bends over to look into water. No lifeguard. Girl throwing broken bottles, cans and refuse into lake.

Near woods, upper left

At edge of clearing, kids nibble mushrooms. Girl sprays insecticide toward their eyes. Tent at ends of woods is incorrectly pitched. It sags because the stakes are facing toward the tent. Man driving peg into ground uses axe with broken handle. He wears an unsheathed knife incorrectly — loosely hanging at his side from belt. He wears shorts and is barefooted.

Picnic area, left front

Unattended youngsters play in ice chest. Picnickers scatter as snake approaches, instead of remaining calm and making no sudden movements. Garbage spilling from uncovered trash can clutters the area and the half-eaten food has attracted a possibly rabid animal. Girls should ignore the skunk — not play with it.

Campsite, center —

Tent at left is pitched on low ground, near water. Location is too damp for sleeping bags. Couple barbecuing under tent flap wear improper clothing. Man pouring gasoline onto coals already burning and woman stands too close to grill, cooking. No potholder. Charcoal fumes blow into tent. Danger of igniting tent flap if flames flare up. Pressurized can too near barbecue heat.

Youngster carrying arrows in hand chases unleashed family dog. Area around this tent is cluttered; unsheathed axe, broken milk bottle are hazards. Uncovered garbage behind tent is heaped around. The overflow has attracted a small animal.

Flammable rubbish is too near campfire. Fire not sheltered in a pit, surrounded with stones or in a cleared area. Boy is pouring gasoline onto an excess of unsplit logs as man starts fire with match. Nearby are unbroken matches he has flipped to the ground and a burning cigarette.

Fire in background, too near fallen leaves and aerosol can, is messy, unattended and poorly constructed. Heavy smoke indicates that firewood has not been cut properly (large, round pieces, unsplit). Damp wood not aranged so that air may ventilate fire. Steaming pot engulfed in flames hangs insecurely on tripod too close to fire — causes more smoke.

To the right of unattended campfire, campers have stored their rations on the ground in a loosely-covered basket instead of inside tent, up in a tree, or in a closed, metal container so as NOT to attract wild animals. Bottle of milk unrefrigerated. Lighted mantle lantern bangs against front tent fabric. Fire and asphyxiation danger.

Campsite, front center —

Man smoking while filling tank of campstove.

Tent pitched under dead tree with large overhanging branch. Woman throwing dish water from basin onto ground. This will attract pests. Low clothesline obstructs traffic area.

Under low branches, and with feet and legs unprotected, grandfather over-exerts himself, splitting wood. He uses lightweight, "toy" axe, likely to deflect off the short round chunk that lies horizontal on the ground. It should be placed more securely — upright, on a stump or chopping block. Grandfather's feet should both be firmly placed at one side of the log.

Road, lower right —

Girl with ball and child teasing skunk play in the road. Couple on motorcycle zoom toward picnic area over bumpy gravel road. No leg or foot covering or other protective gear.

Small, overheated, overloaded car pulls large trailer. Driver cannot see trailer behind him because gear overflows roof rack and blocks rear window of car. This part of equipment is not secured. No rear-view mirror inside car and no extra-length outside mirrors to see beyond and behind wide trailer. No windshield wipers.

HEALTH FIRM FORMED

By Princeton Executives.
Norman A. Brady, 156 Hunt Drive, former vice president of Wood & Tower, Inc., 90 Nassau Street, and Maurice P. Coffee Jr., 474 Prospect Avenue, former hospital consultant for the firm, have joined forces to form a health care management consulting firm with offices at 228 Alexander Street.

Mr. Brady is president and Mr. Coffee executive vice president of the new company, Norman A. Brady & Associates. The firm also has a branch office in Montreal, Canada.

The new firm will specialize in management, corporate and hospital management surveys, planning for growth and development and programming of health facilities.

Mr. Brady a native of Canada, holds degrees in hospital administration from North-western University. He has served as manager for two hospitals in Canada and was director, vice president and executive vice president of Presbyterian St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago until 1966.
Mr. Coffee attended Princeton High School and Princeton State University, receiving a graduate degree in hospital administration from Northwestern. He served as director of the Jefferson Medical College Hospital from 1962 until 1967, when he joined Wood & Tower.

TWO-YEAR PACT SIGNED
By Postal Clerks. Negotiations between Princeton Post Office and Local 109, United Federation of Postal Clerks, AFL-CIO, led last week to a two-year national agreement.

Richard Embley served as chief negotiator for the clerks. Others involved in the talks were clerk president James D. Jones, Superintendent of Mails George Givens, Clerk Roderick Dilworth and Assistant Postmaster Basil Ferrara, the chief management negotiator. Other employee organizations which have agreed to honor the two-year pact include the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO, Branch 265, National Rural Letter Carriers Association Princeton Branch and the National Association of T. O. Office Handlers, Local 114.

GALLUP MEETS CONGRESS
On U. S. Image Abroad.
George Gallup Jr., president of the Princeton-based Gallup poll, discussed the foreign image of the United States at a meeting of the United States and the National Association of T. O. Office Handlers, Local 114.

The guests left Saturday. Area leaders of the visit were Mrs. James Watson, president of the AFS chapter, Mrs. Charles P. Dennison, bus trip chairman, and Mrs. Charles W. Mueller, co-chairman.

YMCA RANGERS TRAVEL

Bound for Lake Timagami, Canada, 14 boys and three leaders of the YMCA Rangers left Princeton last week for a 10-day canoe trip in the Hudson Bay region.

The group will camp en route, securing supplies at the Hudson Bay Outpost Store on Bear Island and moving from lake to lake for seven days. Returning to Princeton Sunday, the trip will camp near Niagara Falls for sight-seeing.

Making the trip are leaders John Bussa of the Seminary, Princeton University graduate Mike Kramer and junior leader George Jackson, with boys Blair Allen, Edward Baruch, William Brenner, Gary Melchor, Victor Greig, Richard Holsinger, David Lasley, Samuel Maruca Patrick Post, Glenn Repose, Stanley Satter, Steven Enochrich, William Alpert and David Jackson.

The first trip of the Ranger season, a nine-day excursion to Nova Scotia, was made by Jimmie Adriance, Randolph Bullock, Garrett Grawskamp, Thomas and John Janick, Jeffrey Keolter, Thomas Lemore, Michael Marwell, James Meigs, Paul Moravec, Kevin Nini, Willis Paine, Charles Place, Steven Pollack, Douglas Smith, Kim Sroeder, Steven Vehlewald, Charles Smith and David Cantrell. Group leaders were John Spring of the YMCA staff and Don McKenzie of the Seminary.

Trips remaining in the summer season are a 15-day western pack trip, six days of canoeing in the Adirondacks and a canoe trip to the Wharton Forest in South Jersey.

VARIANCES GRANTED

For Porch Enclosure. The Township Zoning Board granted a series of variances Tuesday to Donald G. Warnock Jr., 235 Cherry Hill Road, to permit him to construct a second floor porch enclosure. The only stipulation the board made was that Mr. Warnock obtain the necessary building permit within a year.

The special permit granting Mrs. Ruth Sarno, 30 Deer Path, to teach art classes in her home was renewed for another year. Previous limitations of no classes on Saturday and Sunday and a 10-pupil maximum were continued.

MID-SUMMER DANCING

At Princeton YMCA. The Nall Set will entertain high school students from Princeton in a mid-summer dance at the Princeton YMCA, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Admission will be $1.

The dance is planned by the Y's Summer Teen Group, which meets each Wednesday for discussion programs and informal recreation. Bob Murray of the Theological Seminary and Bruce Schunder of Princeton University are advisors to the program.

HOURS ANNOUNCED

By Lawrenceville Library. The Lawrenceville Community Library has announced summer hours of 10 a.m. until 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, with a story hour beginning Tuesday, July 16, conducted by Mrs. Alyson Stout, Miss Cathy Owens, Miss Kandy Field and Miss Nancy Bennett.

The playgroup of the Lawrence Township Recreation Department, directed by Miss Kristin Danbury, will decorate the library's windows for the summer and attend the story hour as a regular part of its summer program.

Chemical Warfare Set for Lake

Princeton University's Department of Physical Plant will treat Lake Carnegie for excessive aquatic vegetation Thursday, using a helicopter to apply chemicals, with an air boat used in shore areas to protect shoreline plantings.

Although the chemical granules are not harmful to fish, they will affect the taste of fish caught about three days. The University suggests all fishing be suspended in the lake over the weekend.

As a precautionary measure, the college will also suspend all irrigation done with lake water for a period of a week, and suggests Princeton residents using lake water for planting do the same.

The treatment is being made with the approval of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission and the Public Health Department of New Jersey.

BASKETBALL — BUT WHERE? Chris Thomforde will captain Princeton's 1968-69 basketball team, but whether it will be able to play in the 7,500-seat Jadwin Gymnasium remains a matter of doubt. Contrary to belief that the numerous construction problems had been solved, the Tigers may again begin next season in the familiar surroundings of Dillon Gym. Story on page 3.

ENGINE NO. 1 GAINS
Diamond Tosses No-Hitter.
Mike Diamond, 12-year-old pitcher, tossed a no-hitter last week against Post 76 in the PBA Youth League as his team Engine No. 1 won three games and tied Eagles for second place.

Diamond's was the fourth no-hitter by a No. 1 pitcher in the last 16 games. It was Mike's second win, his first a one-hitter against Eagles on opening day.

Mike didn't have to sweat this one out, either. His teammates had a field day at the plate, rapping 18 hits and scoring 20 runs. Dave Harwood went 4-for-5, including a two-run homer and bases loaded triple; Bobby Speagle had to settle for four hits in five at-bats when Larry Trane made an outstanding catch of his bid for a home run with the bases jammed. Others: Larry Howell 4-for-6, including a pair of doubles, and Ron Campbell, 3-for-6.

In a virtual carbon copy of its Post win, No. 1 came back to blast winless Elks, 22-0. Dave Harwood, making his first start as a pitcher, gave up only two hits, a bunt single to Tony Lewis and a triple to Tony LaPlaca. He struck out 12.

Grand Slam By Speagle, No. 1 jumped to a 9-0, first-inning lead on the heels of Speagle's grand slammer and a run-scoring double by Campbell. Speagle added three singles for four of his team's 17 hits.

Harwood made his own cause all the more sure by stroking a two-run homer and a pair of singles. Mike Diamond was also busy throughout the game, connecting for a triple and two singles, stealing three bases and scoring four runs. In addition, Larry Howell and Campbell each had two hits.

For its third win last week, No. 1 combined Speagle's two-hit pitching and four errors by the opposition for a 5-1 victory over Eagles. Speagle opened the game with a leadoff triple for No. 1, sparking the victors to four runs in the first. He fanned 12.

Mike Diamond had two of the four hits yielded by Eagle's George Reynolds who struck out seven. Reynolds also got one of his team's two hits, a double. Dana Nini's single was the other. The setback knocked Eagles out of a first-place tie with Engine No. 3.

No. 3 Wins Two. John Mooney pitched No. 3 to a 6-3 win over Hook & Ladder, as No. 3 won two last week. The other was a 7-6 squeaker past the Elks.

Mooney got help at the plate from Jamie Petrons, who had two hits. Teddy Thomas, relieved by Jack Bayer, took the loss. In his Elks scare, No. 3 was able to pull it out when Bobby McHugh hit a two-run single in the last inning. Mike Barren, 3-1 was the winning pitcher.

Buddy Kleiber led the Elks at the plate. He also stole home in the sixth inning when the Elks pushed across four runs.

The Eagles held on to a share of second place when it won a pair last week, an 8-7 victory over Post 76 and a 16-4 decision over Roma Eterna. The game with Post 76 was a seamy affair with Post 76 rallying for two runs in the last inning to take a 7 lead. The Eagles, however, fought back with two runs in their half of the final frame for the win. George Reynolds, the winning pitcher in relief, hit a double in that last-inning comeback. He had three hits in all while teammate Danny DeVecchio has three singles and Jeff Kingsley and Joe Herman each hit doubles.

For Post 76 John Mittnacht hit a two-run homer and Tom Stange doubled and hit two singles. Chris Luper had two hits.

DeVecchio Gets Four Hits. Seven singles, four by DeVecchio and three by Ed Voiz and Jeff Kingsley's pitching were the highlights of the Eagle win over Roma. Kingsley is now 3-0. Steve Howell and Lew DiIacio hit doubles for the losers. Howell (eight strikeouts) was the losing pitcher.

one-run games, topping Italian American Sportsmen, 5-4, behind the tandem pitching of Lucien Brush and Jack Bayer, and Post 76, 3-0.
Against Post 76, Hook & Ladder rallied for seven runs in the last two innings, four coming after two were down in the last inning. Lucien Brush knocked in the winning runs.

Brian Smith, who also hit a key bases-loaded triple, was the winning pitcher, going all the way. John Mitnacht took the loss, in relief of Tom Stange.

In another game, the Sportsmen defeated Roma Eterna, 2-0. Two games, Sportsmen vs. No. 3 and Elks vs. Roma were rained out and will be played later on.

MEN'S TENNIS TO BEGIN
Friday at the University Courts. The fourth annual Princeton Men's Invitational Tennis Tournament will begin Friday at 5 p.m. on the Princeton University courts. The draw is limited to 32 men, with the finals scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Falling between the Pennsylvania Grass Courts tournament at Merion, Pa., and one at the Eastern Grass Courts in East Orange, the Princeton tourney is expected to draw several ranked players from each. Last year's winner was Tom Kemp, a player for UCLA, with Princeton captain Les Buck the runner-up.

The public is invited to all matches.

ENTRIES ACCEPTED
For District Tennis. Entries are still being accepted for the New Jersey District Tennis Championships, open to 12 and under and 14 and under boys and girls. Entry blanks are available at local clubs and courts.

The tourney will begin Monday at 10 a.m. on the Community Park Courts. The finals are set for Wednesday or Thursday, depending on the size of the draw.

Housing is still needed for out-of-town players. Families in the area offering accommodations should contact Karen Fitzpatrick, 924-2190, or Debby Endersby, 924-4565.

8 SWIMMERS QUALIFY
For N. J. Junior Olympics. Eight individual swimmers and two relay teams from Princeton have qualified for the New Jersey Junior Olympic finals which will be held August 17-18 at Lake Mohawk and Livingston.

Thirteen individuals and four relay teams from Princeton have now qualified for the finals. The winners of a swimmer must place among the top six fastest times in the state in preliminary heats.

At an AAU meet held at Community Park Pool last week, Jane Freeman and Martha Lasley qualified first in their events. Miss Freeman won the 100-meter freestyle for girls 15-17 with a time of 1:04.6. Miss Lasley took the 50-meter freestyle for girls 13-14 with a clocking of 29.8. In all, 298 swimmers from the state participated.

David Nancino and Chuck Hector placed 3d and 5th in the 200-meter freestyle for boys 11-12. Their times were 2:32.2 and 2:33. Margaret Jilison (1:32.7) placed 4th in the 100-meter freestyle for girls 11-12, and Carol McGrath (44.4) also placed 4th in the 50 meter butterfly for girls 10 and under.

Chris Reeve placed 8th in the same race to qualify as a 2d alternate. Carrie Bolster is a 2d alternate in the 50 meter freestyle for girls 13-14. Other Princeton swimmers in the Community Pool meet were Maura Dorgan, Debbie Coda, Robin Reeves, Ginny Eichbaum and Margaret Marshall.

At an AAU meet held last week at Fayson Lakes, Peggy Jabay placed 4th in the finals of the 100 meter backstroke for girls 15-17. Her time was 1:21.8.

The medley relay team of Dede O'Hara, Carrie McGrath, Chris Reeve and Pat McKenna finished 3d for girls 10 and under with 2:58.7. The free relay team of Kim Reeves, Cathy Krauss, Maura Dorgan and Margaret Jilison qualified with a 6th place finish. Their time was 2:19.1.

Others from Princeton who participated in the Fayson Lake meet were Andy O'Hara, Bob Hoedemaker and Carrie Bolster.

Ross Wales and Desmond Quinn, two Princeton University swimmers representing the Princeton Aquatic Association, placed in the finals of the 500-meter freestyle at Community Park. Wales finished second with a time of 4:44. Quinn was fifth with 4:48. The time was for the senior's men's championship of New Jersey.

YMCA DUELS W. WINDSOR
To 3-3 Tie. The Princeton All-star baseball team fought the West Windsor 13-15 year-old squad to a 3-3 tie last week, in a pitching duel between Dave Parmenter and Jeff Wetterling.

Wetterling struck out five in seven innings for West Windsor while Parmenter was relieved in the sixth by Jeff Bannon, who struck out two to retire the side with the bases loaded.

In a game at Fort Dix, Princeton romped to a 17-1 win, with a hitting spree led by rightfielder Lawrence Parker, infielder Mike Anderson, first baseman Bob Worn and catcher Ray Richards. Nicky Panico took the win on a steady middle-inning relief bid.

The Princeton All-Stars will start Willie Rosso Friday against Fort Dix, in a game beginning at 6 p.m. on the Pemberton High School Field. Princeton will play a team from Huntington, Long Island, here Saturday and Sunday, at 3 p.m.

NAVY AND RED WIN

In Summer Lacrosse. Unbeaten Navy won its third straight game in the summer lacrosse league last week, trimming Blue, 8-4, on the strength of a big first-half lead. In the other contest, Red (2-1) handed Green its third defeat, 2-0.

Dave Leete paced Navy to a 6-2 lead over Blue in the first two periods, scoring four times. The losers' goals were credited to John Seiger, Jack Spiro, Mike Smith and Bob Reich.

Six goals in the second quarter led to its triumph over Green. Gordon Hart and Phil Allen each making three of the victors' scoring shots. Bob of Green's went to Bill Dowdes.

This Thursday in the twilight contest, Navy plays Red and Green faces Blue. The site is Marquand Park.

Somehow you're going to be late again.
It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like other cars. It pulls you around like a corner, curves and other drivers' mistakes. It's that all SAAB has! Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

ONE-GAME LEAD HELD BY McGraw-Hill. With the regular season fast drawing to a close, McGraw-Hill maintained its one game lead in the eastern division of the Business League last week, routing NCA, 10-1. The leaders have one game left to play with Accelerator and RCA, B who were in second and third place, respectively.

In the western division, RCA A and RCA Astro both won and barring an upset, will decide the title Thursday evening at night 1 at RCA A's field. The game was rescheduled from this past Tuesday.

Page Carlisle, Tom Wood and Ange Vasti collected three hits in the McGraw-Hill victory. Two safeties each by Pat Young and Jose Butera accounted for four of NCA's seven hits.

Accelerator kept pace with an 8-4 triumph over Shell Chemical, and RCA B knocked Columbian Carbon out of third place, winning 13-7. Carbon led with a four-run first, but could only manage three more tallies over the last six innings off winning hurler Tom Ward. RCA came up with two five-run frames with Ed Kreiger going three for three, and four other batters getting two hits each.

Ron Infant's three for four performance led RCA A to a 9-7 win over ERC, and dropped the losers out of contention for the division title. ERC was the only other team not previously eliminated from the race.

Jud Kodner picked up two hits and scored two runs for the winners, while Charlie Marinko and Jim Steele each went three for four for ERC.

Mo Amar hurled his second shutout of the season giving up just five hits along the route, as Astro whipped Hopewell TV, 8-0. Astro banged out 16 hits, including four in four trips by John Reisenweber.

Veteran Joe Castora had three of Hopewell's five hits, including a pair of doubles.

Home runs by Frank Pannela, Dick Gillespie and Larry Witham and the pitching of Carl Valenti gave Dow Jones its fifth win of the year, 13-5 over last place ETS. The win moved the team into a three-way tie for fourth place in its first year in the league.

PMC scored ten runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 14-8 verdict over American Cyanamid. Ted Munday, Jerry Migliacci and Bill Hyman all had three hits, and Adrian Gosselin added a brace of two-baggers. Led by hitting of Clark Lennon, Bob Davis, and Bob Allen, Cyanamid also managed to score freely, but could not match PMC's output.

In the final game seventh place EMR made sure it stayed comfortably away from last place ORC, by scoring a 17-8 decision over the Eastern division cellar-dwellers.

WILL'S BACON TOP

in Babe Ruth League. Behind Walt Dimitruk's two-hit bid, Will's Shell defeated Lucar Hardware, 14-2, last week to regain first place in the West Windsor Babe Ruth League with a 2-1 mark.

Will's combined seven hits and a barrage of walks to push its total to 14 runs. Lucar's two runs came on Andy Beal's two-run homer, the third time Andy has hit for the circuit this season.

In two other games, Lucar defeated the Lions Club, 10-4, and lost, 7-3, to MacKenzie. In the former, Keith McKnight went all the way, limiting the Lions to five scattered hits with Tim Cook's double the only extra base blow. Larry Fowler, Lance Marshall and Mark Cuomo had two hits each for Lucar.

Ron Tindall and Bill Wilson connected for four singles between them in leading MacKenzie to its first win of the second half. Pete Zigler slammed the door on Lucar batters, allowing only four hits. He had trouble only against Cuomo who touched him for a double and single.

In the only other game, the Lions took advantage of 14 walks to defeat MacKenzie 14-9. John Drummond paced the victors with two hits, while J. B. Wright had a double and hit for MacKenzie.

We have no MOTOR BANK in the Fiji Islands.

At the risk of disappointing those in the Fiji Islands who might become Princeton Bank customers — we have no plans to open a Motor Bank there.

But the Princeton Bank is absolutely dedicated to your best service right here in Princeton. And that's the reason why you can now drive your automobile through the convenient Motor Bank at Chambers and Wiggins Streets in downtown Princeton and do your ordinary banking business right from the seat of your car — in minutes.

And no matter what kind of weather — summer heat or winter sleet — the Motor Bank is ready to serve you without the need to park or make your way in any kind of weather.

Here for you is another service of the full service Princeton Bank, where generations of Princetonians have placed their confidence on deposit for 134 years.

Sorry, about things in the Fiji Islands!

The GREATEST... BEST... FASTEST

... How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service... We admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate... it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers... which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service... call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!

WHO WANTS PRINCETON CUSTOMERS? If you do and don't, how to tell the difference. Call me for the Free Piece of your Princeton Community Phone Book. You'll find 700 out-of-town advertisers and 350 local advertisers all looking for Princeton customers through Princeton's favorite telephone directory (that's the red and gold one with the wife's names, the street directory, and the local phone numbers you'll find nowhere else).

3 ROOM APT. FOR RENT in Lawrenceville, on Main Street, 995 per month. Available August 1. Call 921-9709 or 921-6237.

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

Occasionally a house comes on the market that sells itself. We have it. Situated on an acre surrounded by trees, this charming 4 bedroom Colonial invites you to come and see and be persuaded. There is a fireplace in the recreation room where it belongs, a simple wonderful country kitchen where the family eats their quick meal, and a more formal dining room for leisurely dining. The simple dignity of the living room compels the charm that pervades this house. The delightful tranquility of the location makes this a rather good buy at $45,000.
